

Heart of Trinity Worldwide Education Award Presented to ImpactAVillage

June 4, 2014

Dear ImpactAVillage,

Congratulations on receiving the Worldwide Education Heart of Trinity Award! The Heart of Trinity Awards are given by the fifth graders at Trinity School to organizations that help in certain categories, for instance medical care, fitness, education, animals, and basic needs. The chosen organization gets a certificate, a medallion, and a check for one hundred dollars. We give these awards to help organizations like you thrive and expand. Also by doing this, we raise awareness among the students so they may want to volunteer and combat these problems when they are older.

Trinity School students raised this money in an event called Penny Panic, a competition in which each grade tried to raise the most money through dollar bills, pennies, and other coins. This money is used for Trinity's Student Teacher Leadership Team projects, which aid other people around the world and donate to helpful organizations throughout the year.

Valuing a good education, Trinity teaches students with all the supplies and technology to create powerful and influential memories of care for others in need. We hope that the children who don't have the education we do will receive the necessary supplies they need to become literate, and maybe go on to college, have sustainable jobs, and in return help others.

We appreciate that ImpactAVillage supports and funds projects for the improvement of education and healthcare in communities around the world. We believe that this is very important because without healthcare and education, our world wouldn't get anywhere. We like that you started by contacting local people in Sudan to figure out if they wanted help with a school and how you had everyone in the village help build it. It is marvelous that you are branching out to help everyone receive excellent health care and education.

We like that you use ancient healing methods because this is respectful to the cultures and helps people feel comfortable. We liked hearing Deng Jongkuch's story and think that his many hardships are similar to those you are trying to help. His story catches people's attention which helps raise awareness and gives a reason to help others.

Thank you for your time and what you do
